1 We work be-neath the sun, un - til our day is done.
2 Each link in life must end, yet leads to life a - gain.
3 The shoot comes up in spring where on - ly leaves had been.
4 God did this life em - brace: in Christ he took our place.

We rest when comes the night, then wake to hea - ven's light.
The old one's fi - nal sigh ech - oes the new-born's cry.
It marks where au - tumn sowed in com - ing win - ter's cold.
His death u - pon the tree from death has set us free.
